My free time I spend being with family and friends. I keep myself very up to date with what's happening in IT in the world. I have a great passion in what happens to IT, and I blog about Citrix technologies, where I share my knowledge with a larger community, I have established to the whole world. For me it is very important to de- stress if I had a hard and long day at work. The balance I have acquired in life, so I tackle work-related challenges with calm and clarity.

I read with great interest the articles in newspapers, magazines, books and trade journals on the subject, and trying in this way to keep me informed of developments in the area. Additionally, I enjoy always cozy arrangements with family and friends.

I am highly interested in sports and cultivates including race cycling, running and fitness and cross training.
